To describe and consider how engaging with stories of birth influenced expectations and experiences of childbirth for two generations of women.

Aims:

1. To describe and consider how engaging with stories of birth influenced expectations and experiences of childbirth for two generations of women.
2. To review the literature on birth stories and establish a research question.
3. To conduct a qualitative study to explore the experiences of two generations of women who engaged with birth stories.

Method:

1. Literature review
2. Qualitative research method
3. Study design

Results:

1. Findings from the study
2. Themes identified

Conclusions:

1. Implications for practice
2. Suggestions for future research

References:

Acknowledgments:

This research was supported by a grant from the National Health and Medical Research Council (NHMRC) of Australia to Dr. Lesley Kay, University of Central Lancashire.

Image Quality Check

This PowerPoint presentation has been optimized for printing. However, if you need further assistance or have specific requirements, please contact posterpresenter@gmail.com for personalized support.

For more information, visit PosterPresentations.com or follow us on Facebook.